

There is very little radio (and no TV) penetration where I live. XM radio is my primary broadcast access. If they need to be able to give traffic and weather to stay in business, then I think it's very important that they be allow to do so. I know that the country has become primarily urban, but there are still plenty of us in rural areas, and we are being short changed by conventional broadcasters. Thanks, glm